System Maintenance Day April 9th

A maintenance day is scheduled for Wednesday, April 9th. All BlueFern systems are likely to be affected as various machines are shut down and restarted. Although the systems may be functioning correctly for brief periods, you are advised not to run any HPC jobs unless you're prepared for them to be halted suddenly.

Update 9/4/14: Todays maintenance is now finished. All systems should be operating normally.