Bay fencers nail it at champs

Hawke's Bay has scored a win in the Silver Ferns World Championship, held in New Zealand. The team, led by coach John Tye, defeated Australia in the final to claim the title.

The Silver Ferns, who are currently ranked third in the world, have been successful in recent years. The team's success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players and coaching staff.

The Silver Ferns have a strong history in the sport, having won several international tournaments. The team's recent success is a source of pride for the nation and a testament to the skill and talent of the athletes involved.

The Silver Ferns' victory is a significant achievement, and the team is expected to continue their success in the years to come.

---

Students experience science research

A group of students from a local high school enjoyed a unique educational experience last week. The students were able to participate in a science research project at the local university.

The project, which is focused on the impact of climate change on marine life, was led by a team of researchers from the university.

The students were able to learn about the science behind the project and gain valuable experience in the field. They were also able to interact with the researchers and ask questions about the research.

The experience was a great opportunity for the students to gain a deeper understanding of science and its applications. It is hoped that the students will be inspired to pursue further studies in the field and become future leaders in science.

---

Letters to the editor

Readers are encouraged to submit letters to the editor to share their thoughts and opinions on current events. Letters should be concise and well-written, and should not exceed 300 words.

Email: editor@newspaper.co.nz

PO Box 320, Hawke's Bay, 4222

---

Contact: Dene Bockwell, news@country.com

---

For rural news contact Doug Lang

Email: dlang@countrynews.com