

Using Groups to manage your references

You can sort your references into different categories

So you can check the number and relevance of references you have for each subsection of your thesis or paper

The groups: All References, Unfiled and Trash will always show at the side

To create new groups in your EndNote library

- Go to Groups | Create Group
| Enter a title that is relevant to your work

In your main EndNote Library highlight the references you want to add to a group

- Go to Groups | Add References to

References in these groups only appear if you enter them by menu or by clicking and dragging the entry from the main library to the group
